Prayer for the 2020 National Leadership Forum

inclusive of A Prayer to the Creator from Pope Francis' *Fratelli Tutti*

*Lord, Father of our human family, you created all human beings equal in dignity:
pour forth into our hearts a fraternal spirit and inspire in us a dream of renewed encounter, dialogue, justice, and peace.
Move us to create healthier societies and a more dignified world,
a world without hunger, poverty, violence and war.*

*May our hearts be open to all the peoples and nations of the earth.
May we recognize the goodness and beauty that you have sown in each of us, and thus forge bonds of unity, common projects,
and shared dreams.*

Merciful Lord, bless all young adults in our nation and bless all those who accompany them through the Church.
Bless this National Leadership Forum and all who participate.

May we arise now – to dream, to hope, to aspire, to contemplate the heavens, the stars and the world around us, to take a risk, to change the world, and to become who we are.***

We ask this through Christ our Lord. Amen.

"Message of His Holiness Pope Francis for the Thirty-Fifth World Youth Day"

In a culture that makes young people isolated and withdrawn..., let us spread Jesus' invitation: "Arise!" ... "Arise!" is also an invitation to "dream," to "take a risk," to be "committed to changing the world," to rekindle your hopes and aspirations, and to contemplate the heavens, the stars and the world around you. "Arise and become what you are!"

3211 FOURTH STREET NE • WASHINGTON DC 20017-1194 • 202-541-3040 • FAX 202-541-3176

December 7, 2020

Dear Co-Workers in the Vineyard,

On behalf of the U.S. Bishops' Committee on Laity, Marriage, Family Life and Youth (LMFLY), for which I have the honor of serving as Chairman, it is my sincere pleasure to welcome you to this year's virtual National Leadership Forum on Ministry with Young Adults.

As you may have noted, I have addressed you in this letter as my "co-workers in the vineyard," echoing the title of the U.S. bishops' pastoral framework on lay ecclesial ministry, which is celebrating its fifteenth anniversary this year. In that document, my brother bishops made a profound observation, saying that "ministry is diverse and, at the same time, profoundly relational. This is so because ministry has its source in the triune God and because it takes shape within the Church understood as a communion." (Co-Workers in the Vineyard of the Lord, p. 21)

This synodal spirit has been so necessary for ministry work this past year, as we have moved our pastoral work toward online settings – where we need to rely more on one another across time and space, and across cultures, communities, and generations. I am incredibly grateful for an opportunity like the National Leadership Forum that is now a leading contribution within that digital landscape. Our Church will truly be enriched by its fruits.

Let me take this opportunity to thank the leadership of the National Advisory Team on Young Adult Ministry and the Forum's planning team, which have done a phenomenal job developing an impressive program for us. During the Forum, not only we will hear from a wonderfully diverse lineup of key leaders, but each of you will be able to contribute your own creative insights to the conversation.

That leads me to express my thanks to you for participating. No matter where you are on your journey, we are grateful that you have taken time to be with one another – to learn, to grow, to celebrate, and to begin to formulate new and innovative ways to accompany young adults in the Church.

I am very happy that the Forum planners have chosen "Arise!" as the event's theme this year, as we certainly need to arise from the uncertainty of the present moment in yet-undiscovered ways. I am encouraged that leaders like you will be the ones who are being called as co-workers, laboring alongside bishops like us and so many others, in service to the Lord, the Church, and young adults.

Thank you for your ministry and for what you will do as a result of this special moment.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Most Reverend Salvatore J. Cordileone
Archbishop of San Francisco
Chairman, Committee on Laity, Marriage, Family Life and Youth
(and your fellow "Co-Worker in the Vineyard"!)

What is this Forum all about?

Pope Francis challenges us this year with his message to young people around the world:

In a culture that makes young people isolated and withdrawn..., let us spread Jesus' invitation: "Arise!" ... "Arise!" is also an invitation to "dream," to "take a risk," to be "committed to changing the world," to rekindle your hopes and aspirations, and to contemplate the heavens, the stars and the world around you. "Arise and become what you are!"

Pope Francis, "Message for the Thirty-Fifth World Youth Day," given February 11, 2020 © Libreria Editrice Vaticana

This wonderful message, itself emerging from the Holy Father's 2019 post-synodal apostolic exhortation, Christus Vivit, counters the temptation that Catholic leaders may have to retreat inward in the face of a global pandemic. Rather than trimming and cutting, the Lord calls us to dream, to take risks, to commit and invest and change the status quo – as we arise from uncertainty and move towards confidence in the company of Jesus Christ.

This is at the core of what the 2020 National Leadership Forum on Ministry with Young Adults hopes to accomplish during this week: to inspire Catholic leaders to rise to the occasion and boldly, creatively, and faithfully innovate in their apostolates and ministries with young adults.

Each day this week, we will ground our work in a dimension of Pope Francis' 2020 message:

- to "arise and dream" (Monday, December 7)
- to "arise and hope" (Tuesday, December 8)
- to "arise and commit to changing the world" (Wednesday, December 9)
- to "arise and take a risk" (Thursday, December 10)
- to "arise and become what you are!" (Friday, December 11)

We look forward to this journey together with you this week and in the years beyond.

Memorial of St. Ambrose, Bishop and Doctor of the Church

Arise and Dream

We are invited to dream – to imagine, to envision, and to look ahead with creative energy. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. is remembered for proclaiming, “I have a dream!” at the March on Washington (August 28, 1963). Dreaming gives us something to aim for and it motivates us to go beyond the status quo.

Scripture for the Day: Isaiah 35:1-10

This is the first reading for the celebration of Mass on the Monday of the second week of Advent. The prophet Isaiah dreams of what is yet to come, saying “The desert and the parched land will exult” (Is 35:1). Let his vision for the future inspire us to think: What is possible? Where can we go from here?

Saints and Companions for the Day

St. John the Baptist (first century) who envisioned and prepared for the coming Messiah

St. Francis of Assisi (1182-1226) and St. Clare of Assisi (1194-1253) who together dreamed of “a poor Church for the poor” (cf. Pope Francis) as they laid the groundwork for the global Franciscan community

St. Clelia Barbieri (1847-1870)

who founded the religious community, the Little Sisters of the Mother of Sorrows, in her early young adulthood (at age 21) to tend to the needs of others

Ven. Augustus Tolton (1854-1897)

the first black Catholic priest in the United States, who as a young pastor, envisioned and created a parish community of African American Catholics in Chicago

Forum Welcome Message: “Christ is alive!”

with Archbishop Jose Gomez of the Archdiocese of Los Angeles, and President of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB)

Monday Daily Prayer: “Arise and Dream”

with Bishop Ron Hicks of the Diocese of Joliet

Solemnity of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary

Arise and Hope

We are invited to hope – to aspire, to trust, and to anticipate with joy. In his 2007 encyclical on hope, Spe Salvi, Pope Emeritus Benedict XVI wrote, “We need the greater and lesser hopes that keep us going day by day. But these are not enough without the great hope, which must surpass everything else. This great hope can only be God, who encompasses the whole of reality and who can bestow upon us what we, by ourselves, cannot attain” (no. 31). Hope truly keeps us going. In the face of everyday struggles, longstanding adversity, or a global crisis, hope reminds us of the paschal mystery of joy and salvation that awaits every single one of us.

Scriptures for the Day

Isaiah 40:25-31

This is the first reading for the celebration of Mass on the Wednesday of the second week of Advent. The prophet Isaiah shares his hope for the people of Israel, proclaiming, “They that hope in the LORD will renew their strength, they will soar as with eagles’ wings” (Is. 40:31). Let the prophet’s hope be ours as well and inspire us to consider: How can I trust and let God into my plans? What does God have in store for us?

Ephesians 1:3-6, 11-12

This is the second reading of the celebration of Mass for the Immaculate Conception. St. Paul shares his joy in being part of a community that God had in mind “before the foundation of the world” (Eph 1:4) and which was chosen by God to do his work: “we who first hoped in Christ” (Eph. 1:12). As Christians, then, we are people who are grounded in hope and with that hope, in the company of the Blessed Mother and the saints in heaven, can respond with aspiring joy to any challenge, any obstacle, and any uncertainty placed in our paths.

Saints and Companions for the Day

The Blessed Mother, Mary of Nazareth (first century)

our Immaculate Conception, whose unconditional hope and trust in God manifested in the birth of her son, Jesus Christ, our Lord

St. Francis de Sales (1567-1622) and St. Jane Frances de Chantal (1572-1641)

whose innovative approaches to the spiritual life were unique and unprecedented for their time, grounded in their love of God and his people

St. Kateri Tekakwitha (1656-1680)

a young adult Native American who faced great adversity from many others, including her very own community, and responded with courageous hope and trust in the Lord

Bl. Michael McGivney (1854-1897)

founder of the Knights of Columbus, whose hope in and support of the fraternity, fidelity, and charity of families inspired the Church to arise to new life

Tuesday Daily Prayer: “Arise and Hope”

with Bishop Gerald Vincke of the Diocese of Salina

Special Reflection: The Immaculate Conception

with Archbishop Salvatore Cordileone of the Archdiocese of San Francisco

Training Session: Ministry with Young Adults 101

Have you ever asked the question, "How do I start ministering to young adults?" Look no further. Ministry with Young Adults 101 will help you figure out your first steps into ministry with young adults. This will be an interactive conversation. It will also be held twice so come to the session you are available to attend:

Option 1: Tuesday Afternoon, 2:00 p.m. ET (live zoom link here)

Option 2: Tuesday Evening, 7:00 p.m. ET (live zoom link here)

Orientation Session: “Welcome to the Forum!”

This session will be time to orient yourself to the Forum, have your questions about the Forum answered, and start meeting your fellow participants.
Spanish translation available.

Optional Memorial of Saint Juan Diego Cuauhtlatatzin

Arise and Commit to Changing the World

We are invited to commit to changing the world, to sanctify it (cf. Apostolicam Actuositatem) and to make the Kingdom of God manifest within it. All of God's people are called to be co-laborers in the vineyard, working to change the world by God's grace. Jesus Christ calls us to be the "salt of the earth" and the "light of the world" (cf. Mt 5:13-14) so that the world may be transformed (cf. Christifideles Laici)

Scripture for the Day: Isaiah 35:1-10

This is the first reading for the celebration of Mass on the Third Sunday of Advent. The prophet Isaiah recalls how the Lord has sent him to "bring glad tidings to the poor," to, "heal the broken-hearted," and to, "proclaim liberty to the captives." We too are called, as was the prophet Isaiah, to commit to change the world through these works for "so will the Lord GOD make justice and praise spring up before all the nations." (Is 35:1-10)

Saints and Companions for the Day

St. Ignatius of Loyola (1491-1556)

the visionary founder of the Society of Jesus (the Jesuits), who told his company and who says to us today: "Go set the world ablaze!"

St. Vincent de Paul (1581-1660) and St. Louise de Marillac (1591-1660)

who together were committed to serving the poor and co-founded the Daughters of Charity

St. Katherine Drexel (1858-1955)

a Philadelphia native who founded the religious community, the Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament, and Xavier University in New Orleans, Louisiana, committed her life to forming mission schools and serving the oppressed and underserved across the United States.

St. Oscar Romero (1917-1980)

the heroic Archbishop of San Salvador and Martyr, took to the airwaves to bring the Gospel to the people of El Salvador despite the efforts of the government. Romero, known as 'the voice of those without voice' was martyred while celebrating Mass on March 24, 1980.

Thursday of the Second Week of Advent

Arise and Take a Risk

How can we commit to changing the world if we don't learn to take risks? Pope Francis told us, in his apostolic exhortation Christus Vivit: "Take risks, even if it means making mistakes. Don't go through life anaesthetized or approach the world like tourists. Make a ruckus! Cast out the fears that paralyze you..." (no. 143). We are invited to take a risk in our lives, our ministries, and our work as missionary disciples - all with the knowledge that God tells us, "Fear not, I will help you... says the Lord." (Is 41:13)

Scripture for the Day: Isaiah 41:13-20

This is the first reading for the celebration of Mass on the Thursday of the Second Week of Advent. In this passage, God announces that he will make of us "a threshing sledge, sharp, new, and double-edged, to thresh the mountains and crush them." (Is 41:15) Those who take risks cut through the obstacles and forge a new path. Even though we are small like the "worm" or the "maggot" (Is 41:14), we can accomplish much and the Lord will not forsake us or the afflicted he calls us to risk everything for and accompany.

Saints and Companions for the Day

St. Paul (first century) and St. Timothy (first century) who risked everything and together traveled throughout Asia Minor and Macedonia, preaching the Gospel as mentor and mentee.

St. Juan Diego (1474-1548) whom the Blessed Mother appeared to as Our Lady of Guadalupe and who valiantly took a risk and brought the image of Our Lady to the bishop on his tilma, which led him to believe.

Bl. Andrew Phu Yen (1858-1955)
the young adult proto-martyr of Vietnam, whose mission was to evangelize and form the people of Vietnam in the faith, risked it all and was martyred in 1644, crying out, "Jesus!"

Ven. Thea Bowman (1937-1990)
who converted to Catholicism at the age of nine, was a bold risk-taker and prophetic preacher, teacher, and disciple who sought to break down the racial and cultural prejudices in the United States. Sr. Thea, a Franciscan Sister of Perpetual Adoration, even continued her ministry after being diagnosed with breast cancer, including her well-known final address to all the bishops of the United States in 1989.

Friday of the Second Week of Advent

Arise and Become What You Are

God created us for a specific purpose in this world. It is our calling, our vocation, and our mission. But have we taken the time to discover what that truly is? Pope Francis tells us: "For our life on earth reaches full stature when it becomes an offering... It follows that every form of pastoral activity, formation, and spirituality should be seen in the light of our Christian vocation." (Christus Vivit 254) When we make the effort to dream, to hope, to commit, and to risk everything, then we can see clearly enough to know what God has in store for us.

Scripture for the Day: Isaiah 48:17-19

This is the first reading for the celebration of Mass on the Friday of the Second Week of Advent. In this short passage, we hear God speaking directly to and about us: "I, the Lord, your God, teach you what is for your good, and lead you on the way you should go" (Is 48:17). He has laid out a path for us - but are we ready to follow on that vocational journey, even if it makes us uncertain or uncomfortable? We pray for strength to arise and become who and what we are - who God designed us to be in his Kingdom.

Saints and Companions for the Day

St. Teresa of Avila (1515-1582) and St. John of the Cross (1542-1591) as mentor and student and collaborators, who helped us discover our inner convictions and the development of our souls.

St. Vincent Pallotti (1795-1850) founder of the Society of the Catholic Apostolate (the Pallottines), who affirmed that all classes and all people - religious, ordained, and lay - each have a calling in the world "for the great glory of God and for one's own salvation and that of one's neighbor."

Bl. Isidore Bakanja (1887-1909)

who became a Christian in the Congo as he entered young adulthood at age 18, but was abused and beaten in the workplace because of his devotion to the Blessed Mother and his public witness for Christ. He forgave his persecutors but eventually died from the infection of his wounds.

Bl. Pier Giorgio Frassati (1901-1925)

the "man of the beatitudes" who as a young adult, became who God made him to be: a person for others, with radical charity for those on the margins of society; a loving son and brother; and a devoted Catholic who sought God in Eucharist, in the poor, in his friends, and "towards the heights" (or in his native Italian, "verso l'alto!").

The USCCB Secretariat of Laity, Marriage, Family Life and Youth would also like to thank the 2020 National Leadership Forum planning team, led by Forum Coordinator, Vicky Hathaway of the Diocese of Gary: Katie Aguilar, Jose Julian Matos Auffant, James Behan, Lauren DeSmit, Alessandro DiSanto, Brittany Garcia, Michal Horace, Paul Jarzembowski, Sarah Jarzembowski, Mary McGeehan, Brian Rhude, and Nick Stein; the administrative support of Grace Gretz and Mary Grace Zwilling; Mike Lewis for the design of the logo; and the organizational support of the USCCB National Advisory Team on Young Adult Ministry, led by Chairperson Diana Hancharenko.

Additional gratitude is given to Archbishop Jose Gomez, President of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB), and Archbishop Salvatore Cordileone of San Francisco, Chairman of the USCCB Committee on Laity, Marriage, Family Life and Youth (LMFLY) with Dominic Lombardi, Executive Director of the LMFLY Secretariat Staff.

We further acknowledge the many presenters who gave generously of their time in offering the workshops, keynotes, prayers, and facilitated conversations, along with Armando Cervantes, who provided the bilingual translation for live events. These individuals all provided incredible content for the ministry field that will benefit the Church long beyond this Forum week.

Finally, thanks be to our God, who makes all things possible – who allows each of us to arise anew in Christ's name and be innovators for the Kingdom of God in our world today.
